Aims Blast at Mayor for Voicing Suspicion About Randall's Island Visit.

EXPLAINS HIS OBJECT

On Wednesday night-the time is properly emphasized, for the great controversy dates therefrom-Marcus M. Marks, our Borough President, took a good look around the city hospital on Randall's Island. The next morning he admitted to reporters that he was so upset—so sickened, he said—by what he saw that he hadn't slept and wouldn't be able to keep an engagement to make be able to keep an engagement to make a speech that evening.

On Friday morning, Mayor Mitchel, after reading Mr. Marks's remarks as published, made bold to say that the Borough President was rather late in being shocked, as the Mayor and others had inspected Randall's Island months ago and the Board of Estimate had appropriated $600,000 for new buildings. The Mayor also voiced a suspicion that "Mr. Marks was only looking for a little publicity—cheap publicity at that." That was all on Friday. It was President Marks's turn yesterday. He responded instantly. "For release at once," he wrote above a "statement" which poured in manifold from his copying machine. The statement said:

"If a member of the Board of Estimate cannot inspect public institutions where large sums of money are to be expended without having his motives expended without having his motives questioned by the Mayor, it is a sad thing for the administration of the city of New York. It doesn't look like coop-eration. I was not informed of the in-tentions of the Mayor when he went to Randall's Island some time ago.

Second Attempt May Be Made to Send Merchant to Bloomingdale.

HAD A GAY TRIP IN TAXI

Lawrence T. Fassett, president of the National Products Company, 42 Broadway, was back in Bellevue Hospital yesterday, after having been released from here on Wednesday. His return to Bellevue was to the prison ward, however, and not to the psychopathic ward, as he was taken into custody by the police of the West 125th street station at 2 o'clock in the morning.

It was his fondness for taxicabs and spending money that led his wife and brother, Edgar S. Fassett, to have him sent to Bellevue first and to try to get him committed to the Bloomingdale Asylum. It was a taxicab which got him into the prison ward yesterday, for the chauffeur of a car in which Fassett and a woman had been touring the cafes of Broadway all night drove his fare to the police station because they had had a dispute over a charge of $10.20. Lieut. Miller booked Fassett as drunk and disorderly.

The merchant was resting quietly in the prison ward yesterday, and it was said that he would be arraigned in court early this week, possibly to-morrow. From there he may be sent again to the psychopathic ward and another attempt commit him to an asylum may be

In the proceedings before Supreme Court Justice Ford on Wednesday, brought about by a writ of habeas corpus, Dr. Menas S. Gregory, in charge of the psychopathic ward at Bellevue, testified that Fassett was "mentally sick" and that if he were liberated he would be back in Bellevue within twenty-four hours. Dr. Gregory's prediction didn't fall far short of the facts. When Justice Ford freed Fassett When Justice Ford freed Fassett the merchant promised to go to a sani-tarium at once. Instead, however, he went to the office of his attorneys and read them a lecture. Friday night at 8 o'clock he left his apartments in the Hotel Marie Antoinette with a woman who later confided to the chauffeur, William P. Spengeman, 2074 Eighth avenue, that she was in the Winter Garden choru. They went to Church-ill's, the Knickerbocker, to Jack's, where
